

Quarantine Love

*Life was so simple then, but here comes corona Creating havoc, testing our mettle from within Ominous and contagious, this virus is serious
Preceding discovery, scientists had been curious*

*Laying on my bed and thinking about you
Missing you so much, I don't know what to do
Loving you from a distance can be torturous, I know
Pain in my heart, really is my Waterloo*

*Now we are separated, hundreds of miles apart
Physical distancing is a must, rest assured you're always in my heart
Today my heart is aching, quarantine love in the making*

*Looking at the stars tonight
I can see the light so bright
Holding on faith and hope,
Protocols and changes we can cope*

*Lumbering out in hibernation, hoping to see you
My wish and desire to become true
Maybe tomorrow but for now, quarantine love is my deepest sorrow.*
